

YOU KNOW YOU'RE A GROW GETTER WHEN:

1. You are willing to push beyond opinions of others, pain, and the status quo in order to grow.
2. You know there is only one you, and you take ownership of what God is asking you to do with the time you've been given.
3. You take the time to analyze, identify, and seek out what you want most in life.
4. You understand you have a purpose, a calling, and specific assignments that are God-given, unique to you.
5. You live in integrity because your actions are aligned with your values.
6. You know delays, discouragement, disorder, and doubts are a part of the process, and you allow yourself grace and patience as you work through them.
7. You encourage the skills, dreams, and talents in others, and you recognize your only competition is against the forces of evil and your own complacency.
8. Your contentment equals your level of achievement, and your achievement equals your level of contentment.
9. You go to bed with peace and wake up with joy.
10. You are fully engaged in your one awesome life!
